Dubai, United Arab Emirates, 29 August 2016 – An electric car charger has been installed at Mövenpick Hotel Ibn Battuta Gate Dubai and is available for use by electric car owners.

Mövenpick Hotel Ibn Battuta Gate has committed to being a sustainable and socially responsible property through the adaption of various ecological practices and applications.

The property aspires towards the conservation of energy and water resources, the implementation and utilization of new technology, of which is powered by renewable energy sources whenever possible, reducing operational costs and the property's carbon footprint as well as making positive contributions to local communities and their environment.

With these initiatives in mind, the hotel's owning company, Seven Tides, has installed an electric car charging station in an effort to reduce the Emirate's carbon footprint and to encourage the use of renewable energy alternatives.
